

*Ariake Campus is located at the forefront of business;
Musashino Campus is a place for thinking and contemplation amongst lush nature.*

From these two campuses, one on the waterfront and one surrounded by nature, we will pioneer future progress and strive to be a vibrant and significantly international university.

Pioneer of the Next Generation Ariake Campus Vanguard of Information and Business

■ Faculty of Global Studies * will be established in Apr 2016 (under consideration)

• Department of Global Communication

At the Department of Global Communication, you will master 2 of 3 languages (Japanese, Chinese, and English), which are not your first language. Moreover, you will also study the language and culture of these countries.
Projected diversity: International Students 20%、Japanese Students 80%

• Department of Japanese Communication

At the Department of Japanese Communication, you will master the Japanese language (especially Japanese for business) and learn about Japanese culture, including Japanese business culture and Japanese subculture. You can also learn how to teach Japanese language.
Projected diversity: International Students 60%、Japanese Students 40%

• Department of Global Business

At the Department of Global Communication, you will master 2 of 3 languages (Japanese, Chinese, and English) which are not your first language. Moreover, you will also study business such as marketing, trading, and business culture of the countries mentioned above in English.
Projected diversity: International Students 40%、Japanese Students 60%

■ Faculty of Literature

• Department of Japanese Literature and Culture

By studying Japanese literature and culture, our students foster rich sensibility by developing their reading comprehension, expressiveness, creativity, and sense of discrimination. Our aim is to cultivate students who have the creativity to give rise to new cultural arts.

■ Faculty of Law

• Department of Law

By enabling students to acquire and develop practical legal knowledge and ways of thinking that will facilitate prosperous living. the Department of Law produces graduates who can harmoniously contribute to the formation of a sustainable society.

• Department of Political Science

By helping students to understand the social environment surrounding them and acquire the abilities and skills needed as model citizens of a peaceful society with a harmonious outlook the Department of Political Science produces individuals who can contribute to the formation of a sustainable society.

■ Faculty of Economics

• Department of Economics

The Department of Economics produces individuals who maintain a strong sense of ethics and spirit of harmony in the midst of our global society. These individuals also strive to contribute to society. They also realize their full potential and are also capable of identifying and solving problems through a universal and scientific way of observing and thinking about matters through the study of economic methods and knowledge, and are capable of playing active roles in a variety of fields in domestic/overseas companies as well as public offices.

• Department of Business Administration

The department of business administration produces bold, highly-motivated entrepreneurs; small business successors; certified public accountants, certified public tax accountants, financial planners, and other professionals who maintain a strong sense of ethics and spirit of harmony in the midst of our global society; They strive to contribute to society and realize their full potential. They are promising individuals capable of using their specialized knowledge in areas such as management, accounting, and finance to play active roles in exceptional companies and venture companies both domestically and abroad, in non-profit organizations, and also public sectors.

Musashino Campus, with a History of over 90 Years A Community-based Ideal Locale

■Faculty of Human Sciences

• Department of Human Sciences

The Department of Human Sciences seeks to cultivate individuals who understand life's problems organically and comprehensively through the prisms of religion, the body, and the mind, and are oriented to the development of improved human relations.

• Department of Social Welfare

The Department of Social Welfare seeks to nurture individuals who have technical and practical expertise in the field of social welfare, and who also have the ability to help bring about the harmonious co-existence of human beings within their society.

■Faculty of Engineering

• Department of Environmental Systems Sciences

At the Department of Environmental Systems Sciences, you will gain knowledge and understanding in environmental science expertise. With strong environmental knowledge and systematic thinking, you will proactively involve yourselves in social participations and bring awareness to enlighten the general public about environmental issues.

• Department of Mathematical Engineering

At the Department of Mathematical Engineering, you will gain knowledge and understanding in professional Mathematical Engineering expertise based on mathematics, physics, and information. By the end of the department you will be able to think of how they can make use of your skills within a variety of fields such as logistics, transport, finance and security.

• Department of Architecture

At the Department of Architecture, you will use your professional knowledge and skills based on architecture to contribute towards the design of a more sustainable society. You will also aim to work towards solving any raised design issues we may have within modern society.

"Kasai international dormitory" -a dormitory that gathers international students is now open.

By living together and learning from one another, these students from around the world learn to grow a better understanding of different diversity values, deepen their mutual understanding for each other and learn to build human relations on a wider, international scale. This dormitory is situated in a very ideal location with it only being a 15minute bus ride away from the Theme park.

武蔵野大学

MUSASHINO UNIVERSITY

<http://www.musashino-u.ac.jp/>